I am actively engaged in many kinds of activities both inside and outside of APU. I used my English, Chinese, Japanese and Korean language proficiency to communicate and exchange with APU students coming from all over the world as well as local Japanese citizens. I introduced my country and culture to the world. For example, I participated and promoted APU lecture to local Japanese citizens in fall 2012. I interacted with them by teaching Chinese language and introducing tourism spots in China. I am proud of strengthening and deepening the relationship among Japanese and Chinese people.

I am not only interacting with Japanese citizens, but also promoting APU and Japan to the world. I am an APU buddy, helping short term international students to learn Japanese language and life style. I think I had a real impact on these short term international students. After going back to their own countries, the short term students are seeking opportunities to “comeback” to Japan in different ways. For example, I keep contact with some American students. I talked to them, gave them suggestions on the JET program application and helped them to conduct mock interviews on line. By the way, I plan to hold some APU Buddy cultural events in the 2013 spring semester using the APU Student& Alumni Association student activity support fund.

Making use of APU’s environment, I think what I have done is the real international communication and understanding. I feel so proud and lucky to be a part of APU.
